Extract from the proceedings of the Madras Legislative Assembly dated 1-3-1950.

Starting of a Cooperative College in the State.

* 14 Q - Janab Abdul Hameed Khan (on behalf of Janab S.Muahammad Ismail): Will the Hon. the Minister for Local Administration be pleased to state whether there is any proposal to start a Cooperative College at any place in the Province to provide for Cooperative training on the lines of the Machester Cooperative College?

The Hon. Sri K.Chandramouli:- "There is at present no proposal to start a College of Cooperation in the State. The proposal to convert the Central Cooperative Institute into a college of Cooperation was considered by Government and it was finally decided that the purpose in view could be achieved by the Institution of a B.Com (Hons.) Course with Cooperation as a special subject in the Colleges in the City in the first instance. The Loyola and Pachiappas College have instituted the course from the academic year 1948-49. The Government have sanctioned the appointment of a Deputy Registrar of Cooperative Socieities during 1949-50 to give lectures on Cooperation to the students admitted to the B.Com. (Hons.) in the two colleges. It is also proposed to sanction two Deputy Registars as a permanent measure to give the lectures from 1950-51 onwards".

SRI S. NAGAPPA: "May I know, Sir, how many students were admitted so far".

THE HON. SRI K. CHANDRAMOULI: - "About 30 students".

JANAB N. MUHAMMED ANWAR: "As cooperation is conspicuous by its absence in this Province, will the Hon. Minister take arly steps for the institution of a College of Cooperation in our Province?

THE HON. SRI K. CHANDRAMOULI- "THE Purpose will be served by the present arrangements. This is enough".

Janab H.S.Hussain:- "In view of the importance of Cooperation not only for this Province but for the whole of our country, will this Government consider the matter seriously and also consult the officials and the non-officials cooperators in this province with regard to the starting of a college in our Province?

The Hon. Sri K. Chandramouli: It is only after consultation with the Vice-Chancellor, the Cooperative Department and others that this method has been adopted. Let us try this experiment for some time and watch its results. If they are favourable, very good. Then there would not be any necessity for starting a separate college".

Janab Abdul Hameed Khan: "Arising from the answer of the Hon. Minister may I ask whether the same provision for teaching Cooperation will be made in other colleges which are affiliated to the University for the B.Com. course?.

The Hon. Sri K.Chandra mouli: Wherever it is necessary, it is open to them to write to the Government and the matter will be considered".

Sri D.V.Ramaswami: May I ask whether the limited admission of 30 students to which the Hon. Minister referred, is open to the students coming from the Andhra Univessity area also?".

The Hon. Sri K.Chandramouli: It is open to all the students in the State".

DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT.

A.S.

Please see the Assembly question in the c.f. There is at present no proposal under consideration, for the starting of a separate college for cooperation. In Oct. 45 the R.C.S. submitted proposals for the conversion of the central Cooperative Training Institute, Madras into a College of Cooperation. The Govt. however considered that the proposal might be dropped and that it would be sufficient to institute a B.Com (Hons.) Course with Cooperation as a special subject in one of the Colleges in Madras in the first instance. In Dec. 47 the Regr. reported that the Pachiappas and the Loyala Colleges had applied to the University for permission to start the new B.Com (Hons.) Course from the beginning of the academic year 1948-49 and the University was willing to grant the permission if the Govt. sanctioned the necessary departmental staff for teaching the subject of Cooperation. The Govt. informed the Regr. that they would lend the staff on condition that the Colleges undertook to bear the cost. However at the repested representations of the Vice Chancellor the Govt. sanctioned the appointment of a Deputy Registrar for a period of 9 months during 1949-50 for giving lectures in Cooperation to Students admitted for the B.Com (Hons.) course in the Loyala and Pachiappas Colleges. The Cabinet has since agreed to the appointment of 2 Dy. Regrs. and 2 peons as a permanent measure from 1950-51 for giving the lecures.

A draft answer is accordingly submitted below for approval
